Western Well Represented
At Annual K.E.A. MeetBowling Green Man
To Head Association
For 1939-40 Year

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Education Association which met in Louisville on April 12 to 15, presents several items of interest to the Western students and alumni members.

A Bowling Green man, Everett Witt, superintendent of Warren county schools, was elected president of the K. E. A. for the ensuing year.

Dr. C. H. Jaggard, of the Training School, spoke at the meeting of the Kentucky Folk-Lore Society on "The Relationship of Superstitious Beliefs to Intelligence and Emotional Stability."

Dr. Gordon Wilson, head of the English department, spoke at the meeting of the Kentucky Folk-Lore Society. His topic was "Mrs. Elliott and Miss McGinnis: An Appraisal."

The Western breakfast drew one of the largest crowds in its history. President Paul L. Garrett presided at the breakfast. Lewis Harman, and Frank Yarbrough, represented the Western Student body. Harman made a short talk and Yarbrough played two violin selections. Tanner represented the Western Alumni. Dr. A. M. Stickle spoke on behalf of the Western faculty. Other members of the Western faculty and administrative staff were introduced.

W. L. Terry, head of the Western athletic department and head coach, presided over the meeting of the Kentucky Health and Physical Education Association.

The attendance of the faculty, students and alumni of Western was larger this year than in previous occasions. The attendance of the various departmental and general meetings showed an increase this year.

K. E. A. this year was a success from every standpoint and Western participation was evident in all branches of the convention.

Miss Rhodes Presents
Largnettes To Museum

Miss Sadie Rhodes, of Bowling Green, recently presented a pair of largnettes in tortoiseshell frames to the Kentucky Museum. These were used by a belle of the 60's. Already there are a number of early type spectacles and largnettes in the museum collection. Miss Rhodes' gift is a valuable addition to the exhibit.

Four History Teachers
Attend Association
Meeting in Memphis

Dr. A. M. Stickle, Dr. F. H. Poteet, Dr. C. P. Denman and Miss Lena Logan, all of the history department are in Memphis, Tennessee, where they are attending the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, which convened last Thursday and will continue through tomorrow.

This association is the second largest association of history in the nation. The association was entertained by the Western Tennessee Historical Society, the Southwestern College and the West Tennessee Teachers College.

There was also a joint session with the Southern Historical Association and one with the Teachers' Section of the Association. Ellis F. Hartford, an alumnus of Western was one of the speakers of the teachers association.

News Editor

M. C. Garrett, Jr., junior from Mayfield, has been selected as editor-in-chief of the College News, official paper of Murray State College, by the publication committee for the year 1939-40.

Garrett, who is a commerce major, is a member of Kappa Pi, Journalism fraternity, and was on the tennis team last year. He succeeds Pat Weaver, Murray, who graduated in June.

Feature Section
Of Talisman
Presented At Dance

The feature section of the 1939 Talisman was presented at the annual dance given recently for the benefit of the yearbook. The gymnasium was decorated to resemble a ship in dock. "The Good Ship Talisman," and as the various students were introduced by Mr. Marvin Baker, Talisman sponsor, they walked down the gang plank and became a part of the court over which the "Talisman Queen" reigned.

Mital Bosworth, of Middleboro, was presented as the Talisman queen; Jewell Kahn, of Beaver Dam, as senior with the highest standing; Christine Cole, of Bowling Green, Miss Freshman; Russell Daugherty, Glasgow, Mr. Freshman; Sara Yarbrough, Bowling Green, Miss Sophomore; Lewis Harman, Bowling Green, Mr. Sophomore; Carolyn Johnson, Covington, Miss Junior; Elliott Stephens, Mr. Junior; Julia Sledge, Gary W. Va., Miss Senior; and Harry Saddler, Summershade, Mr. Senior.

Martha Kathryn Lankin, of Marshall, was presented as Western representative to the Mountain Laurel Festival, and Ann Leach, of Princeton, and Mary E. Puryear, of Calhoun, as beauty queens.

'39 TALISMAN
READY TO GO
TO PRESSYear Book To Be Larger This Year

The 1939 edition of the Talisman is almost ready to go to press. The editorial staff and business staff are completing last minute details in order to have all copy in the hands of the printer by the close of this week. The 1939 Talisman is to be larger than ever before. It will be 9 by 12 inches and will contain more pages. The covers are to be of padded leather. From all indications the yearbook will surpass previous editions in beauty and make-up.

Robert Laymon, business manager, stated that annual sales this year broke all previous records. Ralph Guiffey, editor of the Talisman, said that the cooperation of the various classes in securing individual pictures had been satisfactory and that the pictures would add much to the value of the book.

Frank Yarbrough
Presents Recital
Tuesday Night

Frank L. Yarbrough, a violin pupil of Mr. Hugh F. Johnson, was presented in a recital at Van Meter Auditorium, on Tuesday evening, April 18, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Henry Baird was the accompanist.

Mr. Yarbrough received the highest possible rating as a violinist at the music festival held in Lexington five years ago. He has played as guest artist with the Men's Glee Club while the organization has been on tour, and has been in constant demand by civic clubs and music clubs throughout this section of the state. All of his training has been received in Bowling Green.

The following program, to which the public was invited, was presented. The first part of the program was the rendition of Handel's "Soprano in A." The second section of the program included three parts of the "Concerto in G Minor" by Bruch, Allegro Moderato, Adagio and Allegro Energico. The third division of the program was composed of "Ave Maria," Schubert; "Old Refrain," Kreisler; "Rondo," Mozart. The fourth and final part of the program was made up of "Lullaby," Juan; "The Lark," Glinka-Auer, and "The Ghost Dance" by Levy.

FORTY-FIVE ATTEND
ORNITHOLOGY MEET
HELD HERE

About forty-five ornithologists and naturalists from Kentucky, Tennessee and southern Indiana were in Bowling Green on April 1 and 2 for the annual pilgrimage to the great Kentucky bird sanctuaries, the temporary lakes on the Chaney and McElroy farms, ten miles south of Bowling Green.

The following parties and individuals were present. From Indianapolis came Mr. Samuel E. Perkins III, president of the Indiana Audubon Society, Misses Elizabeth Past, Katherine Graves and Ruby Wolfe. From Nashville came Mr. A. F. Ganier, Mr. Leo Rippey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Bryant, Miss Eloise Woodward, and Professor James A. Robins.

Mr. Alfred Clebsch and Alfred Clebsch, Jr., Dr. Charles Pickering, Katherine Pickering and Mr. Buddie Collier were here from Clarksville. Misses Evelyn J. Schneider, Mabel Slack, Audrey Wright, Marie Peiper, Mengel James La Follette, Virgil King and Burt L. Monroe were here from Louisville.

From Marion came Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fry, Cal Rogers, Leonard Rogers and Clayton Gooden.

Dr. Atchison Frazer, Superintendent C. A. Hollowell, Game Warden R. G. Hargestry and County Agent A. M. Shelby attended from Marion.

Mr. Floyd Carter came from Cloverport, Mr. William Jamison from Rich Pond, Mr. Joe Robertson from Hardingsburg, and Felix Perrin from Calhoun.

Western was represented by Dr. Gordon Wilson, Dr. L. Y. Lancaster, Mr. Hayward Brown, Dr. J. R. Whitmer, Mr. Kelly Thompson and Mr. Ed Diddle.

Joe Allen Bryant and Otis L. Willoughby were representatives from Bowling Green. The trip continued through Saturday and Sunday with a dinner at the Helm hotel on Saturday evening followed by a visit to the Kentucky Museum collection under the direction of Mrs. Frank Moore of the Kentucky Library and Mr. Gayle Carter.

BEING CLEANED
FOR MUSEUM

Among the things being cleaned by workers in the Kentucky Museum are three flax hackles. On the metal base of one of these is inscribed:

"No. 3 C. H. S. U. August 1835 S. M. C."

By checking it was found that the hackle was originally owned in Shaker town, Logan county. The C. H. Stands for Center House, S. U. for South Union and S. M. C. are the initials of Samuel McClelland, maker of the hackle.

In an old record book from Shaker town an entry in June, 1835 states that Samuel McClelland had just completed work on a metal lathe. A statement entered on the record two months later shows that he had completed at least three flax hackles.

Recieves Old Music
Pictures And Programs

Miss Ella Kouwenbergh and Mrs. Ben Johnson, of Bardonia daughters of Professor Kouwenbergh, former musician and teacher at Bowling Green, have recently added gifts to the Kentucky Building.

One of the gifts is a quaint group picture of one of the first bands of Bowling Green. At the center of the group is Professor Kouwenbergh and grouped around him are eleven musicians.

Other gifts consist of the old programs of Professor Kouwenbergh and a letter dated 1835 concerning the construction of the first bridge at the foot of College Street.

FORMER STUDENT
PUBLISHES NEW
VOLUME OF POETRY

Stars have fallen upon Kentucky as well as Alabama is only an expression, but down in the southwestern corner of the Blue Grass state in the land of Old Judge Priest and hot smoking biscuits, Paul Twitchell, a new star, is rising over the horizon.

He is the author of COINS OF GOLD, a volume of poetry which was published last week.

It is his second book of poetry and this coming writer of articles, fiction and poetry for several outstanding publications, received payment from a friend in Cincinnati with whom he had waged last spring that he could produce a full collection of poems, each written and published by some periodical in the short space of ten months, that would meet the requirements of a publisher. With the small experience that is his, he didn't hesitate with a single volume.

Production Marks
First Shakespearean
In Several Years

By Margaret Vance
The Western College Players, under the direction of Mr. J. Reid Starrett, presented "Two Gentlemen of Verona," one of Shakespeare's early romantic comedies, on Tuesday evening April 11.

The presentation of this comedy is the first of Shakespeare's plays to be given on the Hill in many years and is another in the list of successful productions of the College Players.

The cast included twenty-one Western students. Many of them made their first appearance before Western theatergoers. Paul Rutledge, freshman from Louisville, portrayed the character of Proteus, the lover. Nadine Smith, of Henderson, appeared as Julia. Mary Virginia Hodge, veteran of three previous performances, acted the part of Sylvia. E. A. Lipchak, New York, characterized one of Shakespeare's noted clowns, Launce. Richard Oexman, another veteran, appeared as Valentine.

This play is a story of love, intrigue, deception, and happy ending. Valentine, who has scorned romance departs from Verona to see the world, leaving his friend Proteus, who chooses to remain at home near Julia, whom he adores. Later Proteus is sent by his father, Antonio, to join Valentine at Milan. There he finds Valentine is infatuated with Sylvia, daughter of the Duke of Milan. Proteus forgets Julia, from whom he departed in Verona, and plots to win Sylvia, believing false to his friend, Valentine. Julia in disguise as a page follows Proteus. Here follows the dramatic conflict expressed by Proteus, "Is love, who respects friends?"

The presentation was modern and was staged before a rich background, upon levels and steps, under new lighting effects. Miss Mary Ruth Lemons, art instructor was art director for the play. Walter Wright produced the lighting and was assistant to the director.

Other members of the cast were: Harold Huges, Frances Williams, Jo Allen, Bryant, Charles Smith, Nancy Matthews, Gusie Frymire, Burton Jenkins, Jesse Brown, Harold Edds, Hugh Allen, Kenneth Emery, James Alex Woonowicz, George Wilson, Belmont Forsythe, and J. E. Harting.

Members of the technical crew of the production were: Zack Hill, electrician, Woodrow Hammond, electrician and John Servey. John Brown is stage manager for the Players.

FRIDAY, APRIL 21

PRIMITIVES

Several fads have come and gone during the past few years, but the fad of college students eating gold fish takes the prize for being the most outrageous of them all. If this practice is continued, the human race will be on a raw meat diet in about four thousand years.

The other day a student in the University of Illinois varied the collegiate diet of gold fish by eating six live rats. Some one should see that college students are fed better rations or even human beings will soon be in danger if these cannibalistic tendencies are allowed to go on unchecked.

The motivating influence is the publicity. It is odd what some people will do for publicity. They will go to any extreme in order to get their names in print or their pictures before the public. It certainly is not complimentary to an institution when its students begin to devour gold fish and rats. Possibly grass and flowers will be in the path of the ravaging appetites next, and maybe Darwin wasn't so far wrong after all, but apes don't eat live fish and rats.

GRASS

The sign which once was prominent on all public lawns and parks, which warned pedestrians to "Keep Off The Grass," has about passed out of existence. The general conception is that people have been educated to keep off of grass and to conserve the natural beauty of public grounds.

In the process of educating, some of us have failed to advance. Western has more walks per acre than any other campus in the state and yet each day we see new paths being cut across the grass. The campus will soon look like a road map of Kentucky. If it continues to be cut up with small paths and trails.

It is true that in some instances a few steps can be saved by cutting across, but in the labor saved, worth sacrificing the grass and the beauty of a campus which is one of the most beautiful spots in the state?

It is to the interest of each student to make it his duty to take care of the campus and institution of which he is a part.

K. E. A.

It was our privilege to attend the annual meeting of the Kentucky Education Association for the first time since we have been connected with schools. We could be compared to two characters in fiction—Alice in Wonderland and King Midas.

It wasn't the city that created the wonderland, but it was the magnitude of the K. E. A. organization and the fields which it covered. It seemed that everything from how to raise babies to how to make a million dollars, was discussed. K. E. A. certainly provides a wealth of information and education in the person who goes to find something worth while. Alice was bewildered, and so were we. We made appointments and scheduled meetings then wondered how in the world we would find the people or get from one meeting to another without being trampled in the mad rush. It was all very interesting and worthwhile.

One of the "spectaculars" of the meeting was the Western Breakfast. To see that many people so devoted to an institution and its traditions was refreshing to anyone who appreciates what Western means. It seems that Western never loses its grasp on an individual who has once passed through its halls of learning. Young and old alike were at the breakfast and each one apparently felt that he was on the King Midas angle comes when one observes his depleted bank roll. Everything you touched turned to gold or of equal value, that is what you paid for it at last. The metropolis probably breathed a sigh of relief when the mad rush was over but it certainly smiled when it noticed its stuffed coffers. Teachers evidently make good salaries or else they save nickels and dimes. Everyone was broke and some were on the verge of bankruptcy but they were at the same time happy.

Another thing that we noticed about K. E. A. was that teachers no longer look the part of the "farm" or the "pedagogue." Teachers on the average are well dressed and well behaved individuals who are a credit to the profession.

physical plants and equipment, organization, and instruction.

THREE

Bob "Scratch" Green, who married Pauline Caldwell of Howell, Ky., where he taught for several years, is in charge of the agriculture department of the Taylorville schools. Bob and his ag. boys took a 2,500 mile trip through the southern states last August and have planned a trip to the N. Y. World's Fair this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Green are the parents of Pauline, Ella, and Bobbie. Hubert Mume, president of the 5th district educational association, is county superintendent of Spencer county. He is very proud of the new Taylorville high school building and reports that work has begun on a new grade building. Sidney Wynn, A. B. '31, is basketball coach at Taylorville.

R. Y. Hooks, A. B. '34, science department at Paducah High School, who married Mary Louise Koon, Bethel College graduate, is the father of Amelia Ann, a LeRoy Yarbrough, 3, and Samuel 3. I never knew until I talked to R. Y. that the installation plan had its origin in our neck of the woods. It seems that Mr. Hooks introduced the idea to the students of Western while he was competing in an annual sales contest or a trip to Washington, D. C. He sold about 75 per cent of all books sold by taking a small down payment and the remainder in small payments. He won the trip.

L. L. Knight of Jefferson County collects information for a "County Speaks" which appears in forty-seven of the leading newspapers of the U. S. and for "What Women Think" which appears in the Ladies Home Journal. The Jefferson County Health Department has reported that the Newburg school, of which Laura Knight is principal, was the only school in the county in which the nurses were able to get a 100 per cent typhoid immunization in the three regular trips allotted to each school.

The Board of Education in the city of Russellville are college graduates. Schools of Hardin county, under the supervision of G. C. Burkhead, have made great strides in the improvement of

Book Review

By Julia Sledge

"THE PATRIOT" by Pearl S. Buck, John Day Company, New York, $2.50.

The winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1938, Pearl S. Buck, has in 1939 presented her newest novel, "The Patriot". Other works by Miss Buck are: "East Wind", "The Good Earth", "Sons", "The First Wife", "All Men are Brothers", "The Mother", "A House Divided", "The Exile", "Fighting Angel" and "This Proud Heart".

Setting aside her usual theme, the Chinese, Miss Buck has begun a series of novels about American women; however, because of the conflict between China and Japan, she again has given us a Chinese novel, "The Patriot", the first in four years.

"The Patriot" which begins with revolutionary days along the Yangtze, is a story of the romance which developed between Wee Iwan, a wealthy Chinese boy who was sent to Japan by his father so that he might overcome his opium habits, and a Japanese girl—the love between man and woman of different races separated by a sea of hatred.

"The Patriot" is full of action and romance, depicting these races of people about whom the world is now concerned. In this book the authorities present these people not as strange people but as people like ourselves. In this present day, it is well for one to read such a book so that he might better understand these people and follow the great conflict being carried on between them.

The Tower Light

by The Lamplighter

In the beginning I suppose it is always proper to christen a journalistic endeavor, such as this with a light sprinkling of explanation.

I doubt whether many Western students and alumni are aware of the fact that there is hidden within the tiny colonnade atop the tower of Cherry Hall a powerful light, which when turned on can be seen for a considerable distance around. Not only can it be seen from far off, but it lends new and peculiar shapes to the objects on which its beams fall. It shows things which before we had not noticed—a bit of cornice here, a reflection from the water tank there, grotesque shadows of of branches where once reposed the still-remembered "open-holder." All this and more would be beheld, whose duty it would be to ascend the tower at twilight and "light the lamp."

By now I expect you have completed my analogy; I hope you will always be on hand in completing what in my haste I leave unperfected. As the "Lamplighter" I shall try to present, as I see them, from my hypothetical tower, old thoughts in new dress, familiar scenes against novel backgrounds, and to cause light to shine from a new angle on Western's more prosaic happenings. A bit of unsuspected cornice here, an unseen reflection there . . .

Fifteen times around the earth at the equator, or three hundred seventy-five thousand miles—that's the amount of traveling done by four thousand high school seniors in coming to our campus, April 7. This stupendous approximation was derived after hours of figure juggling and statistical computing. Other interesting facts which came out during my "climbing" were these: At least seven hundred cars were parked around the Hill and twenty school buses were parked on the athletic field below the Rural School. About six tons of food were consumed. The state of Kentucky realized a two hundred fifty dollar income in the form of gasoline tax, paid by those who came.

If Senior Day keeps on growing, we'll need Hogot Island to help compile our statistics. P. S. Everybody had a big time.

The question is often asked, "Can you dislike someone you do not know?" Let's settle it this way. Walking up the steps near the street in front of Cherry Hall during an April shower (with a hole in your shoe) and see what you think of the fellow who made those steps with such ingenuity that they fit backward and hold literally gallons of water.

At last report our campus had not been infected with the epidemic devouring plague. The most recent news from abroad is that Joseph Deliberato of Clark University, Massachusetts, is the acknowledged champion, having gulped eighty-nine of the gilded wizzlers at one sitting. Lowell Thomas reports the fad is dead, and I'm sure it will be soon forgotten, except by those whose contention has always been that college students, with all young people, are destined to destruction. Fortunately, this is a minority opinion.

From "C. B." to "C. H." is a change in campus homeoclature as represented by the abbreviations of the class schedules. When the new classroom building was being built and was first occupied, it was universally called, simply, the "Classroom Building" and appeared as such, on the schedule. It is an unconscious tribute to the memory of Western's founder that shortly after his name was carved on the face of the structure, it became, un-animously, "Cherry Hall."

Honorable Mention
Roland Smith for a physics laboratory scholarship in Chicago.
John J. O'Connor for a Vanderbilt University scholarship.

Frank L. Keshough for a dignified, masterfully executed, vocal recital on last Tuesday night. All the above young men are natives of Bowling Green.

It just occurred to me . . . wonder what ever became of the old weather-vane that for so many years guided the winds from the top of Potter College . . . thought I'd appropriate it myself when old Potter was torn down but somehow never got around to it . . . I suppose you know the chimneys of the planet log cabin down on the Kentucky grounds are made of the stones which were once the first steps of Potter . . . be back in two weeks.

Gladys Ramsey has been ill for the past few days of her home at Lebanon, but is improving.

Club Notes

Arts and Crafts

The Arts and Crafts Club held its monthly meeting on April 10 in Snell Hall at 7:30. The program consisted of three reels of film depicting "Iron Ore to Pig Iron," "Pig Iron to Steel," and "From the Tree to Newspaper." The entire student body was invited to be the guests of the club.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club met Thursday evening, April 20, at the Cedar House. Dave Rich and Duell Bailey discussed British social philosophers including Adam Smith and Adam Ferguson. Bob Beams spoke on ideological social philosophers including Fichte and Hegel.

Studio Club

The Art Club was entertained Monday night, April 17, at the home of Alma Lee Jones. Colored pictures of the highlights of Kentucky were shown by Miss Jones. By a vote of the members, the Art Club will henceforth be known as the Studio Club. Plans for the next meeting at the Home Management House were discussed. Refreshments were served to the eighteen members.

Congress Club

The Congress Debating Club at its last regular meeting, began making plans for a mock trial which is an annual feature of the club. The personnel has been selected and the trial itself is beginning to take form. The trial will be held in Var Meter Hall some time in the near future.

R. B. Hooks, A. B. '34 received the Th. B. degree from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and expects to receive the Th. M. degree in 1939.

Mrs. Pearl Williams Pruitt, A. B. '35, since graduating here has taught in Mt. Zion school at Holland, Kentucky.

Elizabeth Phillip, A. B. '38, teaches third and fourth grades in Kuttawa public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bailey, from Murray, recently visited Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Holman.

Mrs. Bailey is a graduate of Western. She is a primary education major and an art minor.

Roth Stratton spent the week-end with her parents in Pineville.

Griffin Leads Mittsters . . .

In Amateur Bouts Here

With Frank Griffin, Western sophomore, guiding the drills, boxers from Western, Business University and Bowling Green are prepping for the invasion of mittsters from Nashville. April 28 for the first amateur boxing show to be presented here in some time.

Walter Ullham and Charles Garvin will act as sponsors for the program which will offer eight or nine bouts ranging from flyweights to heavies.

Among the locals who have worked out during the past few weeks are Frank Griffin, Morris Washburn, Charles Decker, Billy Curtis, Joe Covington, and John Brown.

Griffin who weighs 185 will probably meet Bernie Bates, 189. Washburn who is a student at B. U. is slated to tackle George Posey, 147, two-time Golden Gloves champion of the Nashville area.

Outstanding among the invaders is George Posey, 147, the 1938 National A. A. U. champion. An opponent is yet to be found for Charles Decker, a local youth who tips the scales at 220. Curtis will weigh in around 118 and Covington at 138.

These boys while comparatively inexperienced, have been around a bit in the ring wars, and it is expected that plenty of action will be had. The bouts are scheduled for the Army.

Dixie Leonard Tower spent the K. E. A. holidays in Princeton.

Terry Announces Golf, Tennis Card

Following his return from K. E. A. athletic director W. L. Terry announced the completion of schedules in tennis and golf for Hilltopper teams.

The tennis schedule provides nine matches for the local netters and includes tilts with Vanderbilt, Berea, and Murray. Four matches are carded here with five to be played away from home. The opening match against Indiana State Teacher College was played here last Monday.

The arrangement of a golf schedule marks the first time in recent years the Western has supported a team in this sport. Three matches in addition to the state collegiate tournament will be played.

Three games of the 18 game baseball schedule have been played and another is on tap for today.

Western's opening track meet against Vanderbilt on April 8 resulted in a 7-5-42 loss for the locals.

Below are the complete schedules of Western's four spring sports with results of matches thus far listed. It is the hope of the Herald sports department that you will clip these schedules from the paper and place them in a convenient place to remind you of the various athletic events taking place here and that they will aid you in planning to attend these games.

Ladder Play Continues As Netters Prep For Austin Peay

With Ted Hornback handling the reins, the Western tennis squad has simmered down to a fight for positions between ten candidates as the boys look ahead to eight remaining matches of a nine-match schedule.

Ladder play for positions has been going on for the last few days and will continue for some time yet. Coach Hornback has announced his intention of forming his doubles teams from the first four singles players, using the No. 1 and 2 singlists as the No. 1 doubles pair and the No. 3 and 4 men as the No. 2 doubles combine.

Those players now battling for positions are: Captain Norman Kahn, George Willson, Ray Pope, Bert Barrone, Bill Hazlerigg, Hobart Smith, Harold Keen, Morton Napier, Bill Bills and Bob Fay.

Russell Goodaker is spending the week-end in Princeton with his parents.

Vandy Wins 6-1, To Play Saturday

Winky Elected—Diddle, Terry Go Out

Arnold Winkenhof, popular member of the Western Teachers College coaching staff, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky Health and Physical Education Association at its meeting during K. E. A. last week at Louisville. Winky served as secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky High School Coaches Association last year, but no longer connected with high school athletics, he declined re-election to the position.

Coach Ed Diddle and William L. Terry, also of Western, completed their terms as president of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and the Kentucky Health and Physical Education Association, respectively. A picture of Winky could not be obtained for use here.

Locals Lose To Vandy On Track

Vanderbilt's harriers proved too strong in the middle distances and the hurdles, Saturday, April 8, when they coasted to a 75-42 win over the Western thimble in the first meet of the year for the locals.

Don White, Harry Saddler, and Sam Panepinto were the only athletes able to capture firsts for the Hilltoppers. White took firsts in the 100 and 220 and tied with Saddler for first place in the high jump. Saddler scored a first in the pole vault and Panepinto grabbed the nod in the shot put. Hawkins got a second for Western in the mile, Zoretic in the discus throw, and Oliver took second in the broad jump to account for the other Western points.

Summary:
Mile Run—Won by McGinnis, V.; Hawkins, W., second. Time, 4:32.4.
100-Yard Dash—Won by White, W.; Cornelius, V., second. Time, 10.4.
440-Yard Dash—Won by Neel, V.; Cornelius, V., second. Time, 31.4.
120-Yard High Hurdles—Won by Weaver, V.; Hume, V., second. Time, 15.9.
Javelin Throw—Won by Young V.; Heistand, V., second. Distance, 179 feet, 6 inches.
Shot Put—Won by Panepinto, W.; Heistand, V., second. Distance, 41 feet, 11-12 inches.
Discus—Won by Smith, V.; Zoretic, W., second. Distance, 122 feet, 11 inches.
Pole Vault—Won by Saddler, W.; Breyer, V., second. Height, 9 feet, 6 inches.
Two-Mile Run—Won by McGinnis, V.; second, Butts, V. Time, 10:53.6.
High Jump—Tie for first by Saddler and White, W. Height 5 feet, 8 inches.
220-Yard Dash—Won by White, W.; Tuck, V., second. Time, 23.07.

Barons Win 21-3 Thurs.

Vanderbilt's Commodore nine captured the opening game of a two-game series by a 6-1 score here this afternoon as "Cy" Perkins limited the Hilltoppers to three hits and one run in nine innings. The second game is slated for 7:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon with Ellsworth and Rymer opposing each other on the mound.

The renovated Bowling Green Barons, which this year will be a member of the Kitty League, turned on "full blast" Thursday afternoon to trounce Ed Diddle's college nine 21-3 as they scored in every inning but the first and sixth.

Five Baron hurriers trekked to the mound and set the collegians down with a total of seven hits and three runs. Three Western hurriers granted nineteen safeties for twenty-one runs.

All the Topper runs came in the seventh inning. John Ramsey accounted for two of the tallies when he hammered one of Hudson's tosses over the left field wall with a mate aboard. Another homer came in the eighth half of the same inning when Wassmuth, who had a perfect day with four bingles in four trips to the plate, blasted one of Marcum's pitches over the fence.

Lofton "Speedy" Green, Clay Marcum, and Bob Yates handled the pitching chores for the Hilltoppers. Green tossed the first five frames, Marcum pitched the sixth and was forced to depart to the showers with two out in the seventh when the Barons jumped on him for seven runs. Yates fogged them over for the remainder of the game.

Shaw, Arbelter, Ray and Hudson took care of eight innings among them for the Barons, before Elmer "The Great" Haas, who arrived in camp only recently, came out to toss the final frame. Haas, who played with the Hopkinsville team last year, has been heralded as one of the outstanding hurlers in the league. He looked every bit that good in his brief stay on the hill.

Ramsey and Dubick who, each, garnered two base knocks in as many appearances at the plate, led the hitting parade for Western. Wassmuth, Baron catcher, hit safely in four appearances to lead the Baron artillery.

George Bibich, Western grad, who recently signed with the Barons, played left field Thursday, acquitting himself excellently afield and inveigling a pair of walks from Topper pitchers. Bibich hit a hard drive down the third base line which evaded Spatig, but the Western third sacker was charged with an error on the play.

TOPPER NETTERS LOSE OPENER

Pope and Barrone Score Only Local Wins

Victories in the No. 3 and 4 singlists were all that the Western Hilltopper tennis team salvaged from its opening match with the Indiana State Teachers College netters here last Monday.

The top two singles performers of the Hoosiers were too much for Norman Kahn and George Willson and won handily. The No. 1 doubles team disposed of Kahn and Willson 6-2, 6-3, but the No. 2 team was hard pushed to eke out a 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 decision over Napier and Pope of Western.

Pope, playing No. 3 singles for the locals, disposed of Zlatina 6-2, 6-2, and Barrone, who played the No. 4 position, defeated Leek 6-2, 6-0. Every Western player with the exception of Captain Kahn, was playing his first match for the home team. Pope, a transfer from the University of Kentucky, who employs a most unorthodox stance on the court, showed up well in his matches, as did Barrone, a sophomore.

Kahn and Willson met netters who were a great deal more experienced and who had had the benefit of more practice this season. Teamed together against the two top Indiana netters in the No. 1 doubles they did about as well as they did in the singles.

Napier and Pope jumped into a 5-0 lead in the first set but were forced to turn on the pressure before edging out 6-4.

The last two sets were long and hard fought with players on both teams reluctant to stroke the ball hard.

The match was played under adverse weather conditions, the strong wind making accurate play impossible.

The results:
Churchill (Ind.) defeated Kahn (W.) 6-0, 6-3.
Kigin (Ind.) stopped Willson (W.) 6-2, 6-2.
Pope (W.) humbled Zlatina (Ind.) 6-2, 6-2.
Barrone (W.) defeated Leek (Ind.) 6-2, 6-0.

Sometime ago this column promised that an up-to-date summary of the state collegiate track records would be printed here.

Since that time records which stood before the state track meet at Berea last year have been uncovered but it has been impossible to learn just how many of these records were bettered at that time.

Accordingly those records are printed herewith in the hope that some reader can assist in bringing them up to date. As they stand, however, they may serve a purpose in that they will give the Western thimble some marks to shoot at.

Shot Put, Arnica, Centre, 1931	43' 7"
Discus Throw, Arnica, Centre, 1931	154' 3"
Mile Run, Dodson, Berea	4' 29.8"
2 Mile Run, Dodson, Berea, 1931	19' 3"
High Jump, Brady, U. of L., 1929	6' 4 1/2"
Broad Jump, Hasars, Centre, 1932	22' 11 1/2"
Pole Vault, Edmunds, Transylvania, 1929	18' 3-8"
440 Yard Run, Elson, Georgetown, 1929	59.8"
380 Yard Run, Hawkins, Georgetown, 1929	1' 50 1/2"
Javelin Throw, Roberts, Berea, 1931	178' 6 1/2"
220 Yard Dash, Adams, Georgetown, 1929	22.1"
220 Yard Low Hurdles, Burton, U. of L., 1933	24.1"
120 Yard High, Shields, Georgetown, 1934 and
Hurdles, Gaines, Centre, 1936	15.6"

The Half Mile relay record is held jointly by Georgetown and Centre Colleges. The record, 1 minute, 32 and 1/5 seconds was established first by Georgetown in 1929 and that mark was equaled by the Centre team in 1936.

The Mile relay mark was established by the Georgetown outfit in 1929. The time 3 min. 31 sec.

The 100 yard dash time of 10 seconds is shared by five individuals, three of whom are from Centre College.

Topper Nine Thumps Lipscomb By 11-3

With two men out and two strikes on him, Jim Snodgrass, third baseman for David Lipscomb College, hit a home run to spoil a no-hit game for Ed Diddle's Western Hilltoppers here Saturday, April 8. The Diddlemen won the game 11-3, getting a total of 14 hits while playing the best opening day ball seen in many years.

Until Snodgrass came to bat, no Lipscomb player had been able to solve the offerings of the four pitchers which Diddle used. Herb Ball, who drew the opening assignment, tolled for two innings, and was followed by Bob Ellsworth, Lofton Green and Barlow Barlow gave up the lone hit, a terrific smash which sailed over the left fielder's head.

John Ramsey led the hitting parade for the Hilltoppers, getting 2 for 2. Wilbur Spatig, John Magda and Pitcher Ellsworth followed close behind each with 2 hits out of 3 trips to the plate. Ellsworth and Du-laney both hit triples.
